Wheelbase: 264 inches
Weight: 24,540 lbs. Full of Fuel, Water and Gear

Testimonial:

"My wife and I were out west a month ago and we ran into a nasty ice storm. So we pulled off into a truck stop, turned off the truck, and fired up the generator. We had our showers, and dinner, and waited the storm out. After a couple hours, the ice caused power outages everywhere, including the truck stop. But that did not bother us – we were self contained with our ARI sleeper. Convenience is the biggest thing to me. Convenience has saved us money. We save a lot of money every month on coffee alone. My only regret is that we should have done it sooner."

– Dave & Pat Hirsch
